Jose Kulik gravitated to art and drawing at an early age, always striving to create drawings that were detailed and accurate. As he grew he found his favorites in the old masters and the surrealists. He also discovered a passion for playing rock guitar, and eventually found a way to merge his love of art and guitar together. Through imagery, texture, and color, Jose gives the viewer a lot to look at in his artwork. For himself, and the viewer he believes there should always be elements of discovery.
